

Volunteer – Privacy Notice

Who are we?

We (Frontline Partnership) are writing to let you know about changes to the way we look after (process) your personal information (data). This is because there are new rules about how your personal information (data) is used by Frontline Partnership. This new ruling is called General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR). We have to do this from 25th May 2018.

Our lawful basis for processing your data is legitimate interest.

What information do we need? Why do we need it? How do we use it?

When you started to work as a volunteer with us you filled in a project form giving us your name, address, telephone number, who we should contact in case of an emergency, their address and their telephone number. This form also included any relevant medical information. You gave consent for us to take and use your photographs to show other people what we do. You may have been asked to complete a DBS form when you started to enable you to work at one of our projects. When you received your certificate from the DBS you showed it to the relevant Manager. We do not keep copies of this document.

How is your information stored?

We (Frontline Partnership) will keep your information safe in a locked secure cabinet. When we keep your information on our computers we will use passwords to ensure your information is safe.

We (Frontline Partnership) will not share your data with anybody else (third parties) unless we have asked for your permission to do so.

Your rights

If you would like to know what information we have about you please talk to us and we will show you. We will do this within 30 days.

If you would like us to delete any of your information please talk to us. We will only keep your information whilst you are volunteering for Frontline. If you leave your information will be deleted.
